

BRIT KAVOD: A FAMILY CODE OF CONDUCT FOR TEMPLE BETH ISRAEL RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

As a student I agree that I will:

- Always remember that Temple Beth Israel is a place of worship and learning.
- Show respect for the Temple community by respecting the building and everything in and around it. Therefore I will not litter, deface or damage anything that belongs to the Jewish community
- Be respectful of everyone who is part of the Temple community:
 - I will respect my classmates by paying attention when others are speaking, using good language and manners, never hitting or pushing, not taking anything that does not belong to me, and not putting down others.
 - I will respect my teachers by following the class rules, listening while the teacher is talking, and doing what is required of me in class and at home.
- Show respect for myself by always being safety conscious. I will not run, climb, play wildly or throw anything (except balls in designated areas).
- I will not treat others in ways in which I do not want to be treated.

As parents I/we will:

- Share responsibility for our child as a student who is learning how to become a part of the Jewish people, by approaching our child's exploration of our heritage and trying to make meaning of it as a family endeavor and responsibility.
- Share responsibility for the other learners and the teachers sharing in our learning experience by helping our child to always be prepared for class, arriving on time and helping him/her to understand what has been learned in class. We will share with the school the responsibility of monitoring our child's progress.

As a School we will:

- Strive to treat every child with respect, compassion, and active interest
- Do our best to teach Jewish values, tradition, and knowledge
- Incorporate all learning styles and abilities whenever possible
- Reinforce the Comprehensive Youth Education Discipline Policy

We have read the Brit Kavod and the Discipline Policy and discussed them both with our family. We understand that by attending TBI Religious School we are agreeing to live by the terms of the Brit Kavod and the Discipline Policy.
